STUDENTS: A&T'S BEAM OF LIGHT

Quality is diluted in the very effort to perpetuate the efforts of students. In perspectives of time, we have seen a phenomenal development in the actions of students. Our worth is now little questioned, we are established as A&T's beam of light.

A&T REGISTER/EDITORIAL BOARD

To Our Readers

The newspaper you know today as the A&T Register began 100 years ago when Dr. John O. Crosby, A&T's first president recommended to the Board of Trustees that A&T publish a small college paper.

The recommendation was approved by the board and $50 was appropriated for the first edition in 1893. The first edition was printed in 1894 as the Agricultural and Mechanical Register and was a monthly publication.

As the Register staff grew, so did its commitment to the Aggie community. In the 1970s and 1980s the newspaper held the distinction of being the only black college newspaper in the nation to publish a bi-weekly.

Over the years, the A&T Register has attempted to serve as the eyes and ears of the University. This year, as we celebrate our 100th year anniversary, we will continue to uphold the motto that the paper was given at its beginning, "Complete Awareness for Complete Commitment."

We appreciate 100 years of Aggie support and as we begin a new century, we pledge to continue to provide you with the best and most interesting newspaper we can.

The Supporting Evidence in Avoiding Discouragement

BRIGHT THINGS LIE AHEAD

There's a graduation in the air, and it's time to cozy up to RESUME submissions. A word of caution should be sounded about attaining superior grades. Certainly earning quality grades is important, particularly to gaining admission to graduate or professional school. But seeking such grades should not be done obsessively in a manner that may deteriorate your mental health.

It is well established that individuals commonly modify their behavior when it occurs in a group. Hats off to the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., for assisting with shaping the campus.

Or you could ask how organizational activities have been influenced by internal "BIG MOUTH PRESSURES"? Only fools will listen to them.

One might logically say that we have managed to survive without adequate financial support. Enmeshed in the overall struggle of programs, students share a great deal of knowledge in the preparation and implementation of services in many areas.

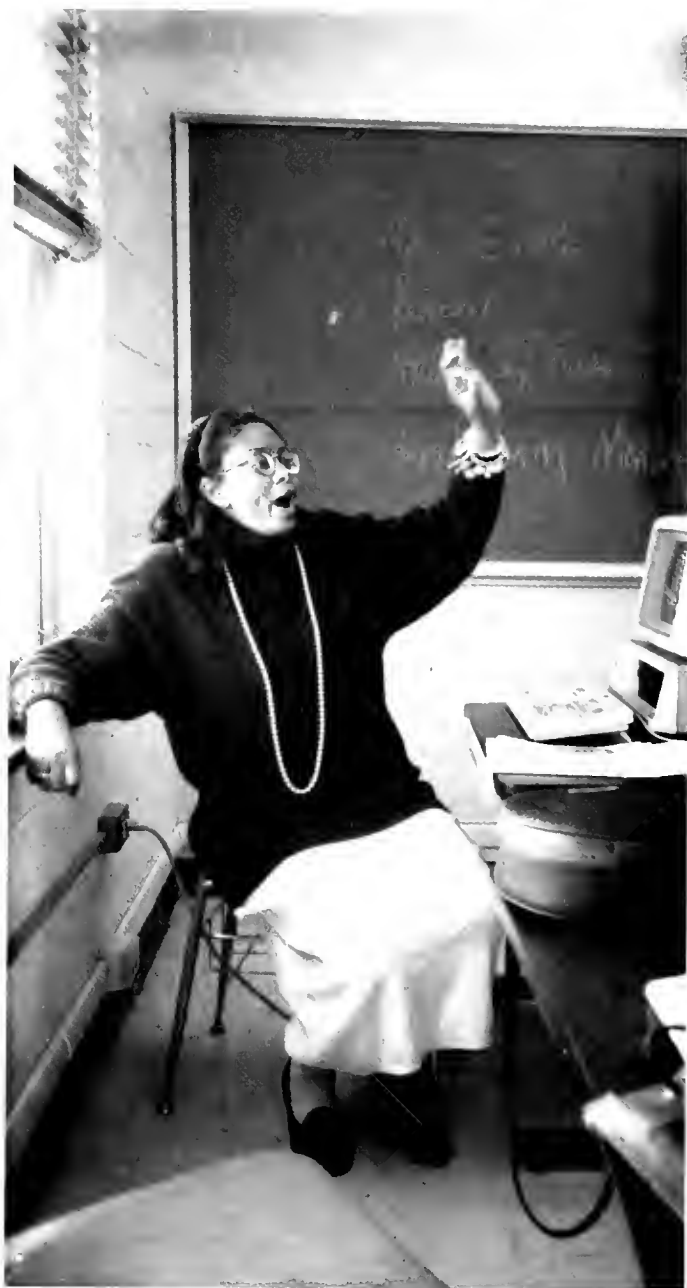

Promoting the importance of educating the whole person.

High intensity of personal involvement.

Laboratory assignments: a requirement for growth

DEMONSTRATING COMPETENCY IN THE EXAMINATION PROCEDURE

Good Study Habits: Failure to invest guarantees stagnation. Students continue to work vigorously towards graduation; and, for some, they are seen as active participants in activities and life of the University campus.

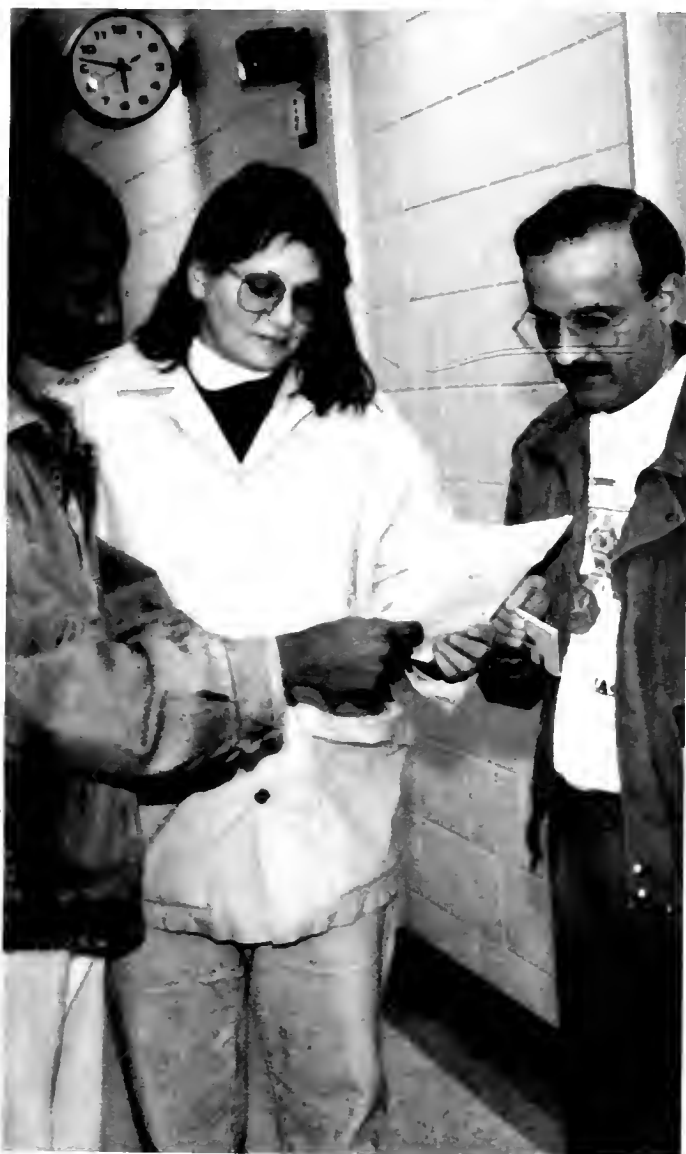

We believe in the continual training program for students. It is hypothesized that, given the necessary exposure and opportunities, students will continue to focus on higher education in spite of economic conditions.

With respect to study sessions, it has been demonstrated that students involved in specific assignments have become protective in safeguarding facilities and equipment in respective areas.

Far beyond those with whom we work or whom we serve, we make better mature well-oriented students.

We continue to receive respect as leaders and exemplify genuine inner security in facing our daily pros and cons of education.

There are many personal relationships established. Students: A&T's Beam of Light.

It is here where standards and skills of cooperation, group relationships, fellowship, leadership, citizenship, and religious experiences may be learned.

If we are strong, we can help others. We can be kind, we can forgive those who hurt us and we can help and protect the weak, the suffering, the young and the old, and all dumb animals on our campus.

A wide age range exist and we all have sharp differences in our beliefs and backgrounds. We share in purposes and activities according to our own special interests.

There are always lines on our campus. Lines Here ... Lines There ... Lines Everywhere! If you go early there is a line ... NO WIN SITUATION.

Using the Bike for easy parking. Learn to teach the SYSTEM.

Organizations varies as widely as do the interests of students.

Mrs. Annie Purcell is a student supporter and shares positive solutions to our many concerns.

Manageable Spans of Control

The Cafeteria's large audience has grown and continued to remain strong because of its adaptability to changing conditions.

John has taken time out to evaluate the effectiveness of the great variety of Banquets for student organizations.

Jonathan, President of the Freshmen Class, says that thinking and planning should be done as near as possible to the points of responsibility for performance. This encourages vital interest and good understanding of responsibilities.

Regardless of other abilities and skills, the one absolutely required skill for a successful relationship is knowing what method to use for finding TRUE LOVE!

Relationships of Attitudes toward students, FRATERNITIES,
AND SORORITIES . . .

Peer influence is significantly related to intellectual commitment. Activities in and out of the classroom provided an intellectually stimulating environment. We can truly say that we have received a good education at our University.

Self-improvement or mutual improvement was the emphasis of the first organized SADD Group.

The subject of membership in the Organization of Students Against Drunk Drivers gave large attention throughout the year.

Exposure to experiences on a higher level of combining NY/NJ Connection has whetted the appetite for new achievements.

Learning by doing has been the educational method throughout the year, says President Cheryl.

Confronted by choices on an ascending scale of values meant new accomplishments.

Conscious identification of student interests gave new growth to our everyday living and learning.

SWING INTO THE ACT

WHAT A DIFFERENCE A DAY MAKES?

Constant study of the composition of organizations to bring to them the persons who should be in their membership.

The basic aim of student involvement is to bring about enthusiastic commitment of all organizations to the achievement of their purpose and to provide the kinds of resources and recognition which are needed to transform commitment into accomplishment. As many students as possible can and must share actively and creatively in the whole process. Learn to SWING INTO THE ACT . . . BE A PART OF THAT BEAM OF LIGHT.

Conducting events based upon student interest and need.

Organizations must bear the responsibility for the success or failure of their programs.

I mean, life before 30 is nothing but a WARM UP. Taking time out to eat is a necessity. The canteen is nice, could be better . . . so I stop by more.

This TEST is out of this world . . . However, I will make a complete comeback.

It's so easy to find the answers when you've studied hard for a test.

YES . . . Plans and procedures are patterns for action. At times it is essential that they do so in order to give the intended guidance in operating this computer.

Just watching over A&T'S BEAM OF LIGHT. That's my job and I love it. That Beam is LOVE.

Usually I walk across campus early in the morning. My car is parked two miles away.

In the development of activities, many presentations are given for the benefit of orientation for new members.

MAGNIFICENT REPORTING WATCH US WIN ... IN AGGIELAND

Remedy and correction can be achieved by education in how things should be.

We have the means and stimulus to continue education beyond formal schooling and to adopt it to the changing life situations and problems. We must continue to encourage and lend opportunities to engage in socially useful service, to accept some public civic responsibility, and to show unselfish interest in other people. We must take responsibility for the direction of our lives.

In preparation for our report, we gathered many facts. You must have the ability to develop a system of study habits commensurate with the assigned responsibility.

This assignment definitely showed evidence of capacity for growth and leadership.

Fostering Positive Attitudes Toward
Homecoming 1993

Miss A&T Stands With the Rich and Famous!

Demonstrating A Sense
of Caring

Through it all, we trusted the integrity of the great majority who made plans for a successful Homecoming 1993, for on-campus students and returning alumnus. We grew toward increasingly meeting our expectations of ourselves. Many students were eloquent on what they did not want, on what they disliked. However, through proper communication, we had a successful Homecoming.

It is important that we learn how to listen sensitively if we want to show caring.

Do not be surprised by others indifference to what you say! That too, is a part of growth.

You see, our proposed strategy essentially revolves around the concept of Hard Studying.

The process of negotiating hard studying with students should be an enriching experience.

			Believing In Yourself
				Oh yes, It will work . . .

			Well, you know PEOPLE WILL CHANGE!

In the midst of good students. We work for the good of the order.

Monique, the same yesterday, tomorrow, and forever . . . lovingly!

Always willing to give credit, praise, and recognition where it belongs. Keep up the good work students.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP

Full Time Students

Assist with reaching goals —
says Debra

Beginning at the point of understanding

Students stand ready to cooperate with in assisting with goals and objectives of the association.

Moral support.

This has been a meaningful year for us. One primary goal has been to involve individual students more in all activities of the club. We urge others to become more involved. This season is an excellent one for you to have your say.

Program sessions focus on student development, our raison d'être.

Students are involved with goal setting, procedures for implementing programs, and assessing student development programs.

Believe me, parking is no joke on our campus. You move . . . you lose!

Students are ready to expedite matters. It did move smoothly and effectively from start to finish.

The most important single factor. In determining whether or not our learning efforts are achieved ... self!

In any specific subject, or the extent in which we achieve, is the quality and effectiveness of our faculty

Classrooms bring together formally the students whose interests and competence are related to the work to be done.

All assignments are based on established plans.

About the Undergraduate PAN-HELLENIC SUMMIT

Since the inception of the undergraduate Pan-Hellenic Summit in 1986, the Division of Student Affairs at North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University has annually sponsored this program on the university campus. The Summit provides an opportunity for regional directors, national officers, advisors, and undergraduates to intentionally focus and direct attention to the real purposes and principles of the eight Greek letter Organizations. The Summit also serves as a major vehicle for fostering teamwork, collaboration and networking between organizations involved. Namely, these organizations are Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc., Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc., Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc., Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc., and Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc.

OBJECTIVES

1. To deepen and strengthen the commitment to collaborate, respect and support all similar organizations in the manner employed by the national and regional presidents of these organizations.
2. To provide direction for and give attention to the Greek-letter organizations--scholarships and service rather than mistreatment of human beings who seek to attain membership.
3. To assist students in their development and potential for broad and comprehensive involvement at the national and regional levels.
4. To inspire the research approach to better understand the psychological and sociological drives which cause students to haze prospective members in spite of the fact that these acts violate organizations constitutions, university regulations and state laws.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

The Reverend Doctor Martin Luther King, Jr. was a man of destiny who changed the course of history and whose leadership still speaks clearly to the conscience of mankind. He lived a life of love and peace and he gave up his life for justice.

Dr. King, born January 15, 1929 in Atlanta, Georgia, received his elementary and secondary education in the public schools of Atlanta. He graduated from Morehouse College in Atlanta in 1948 (at the age of 19) with a bachelor of arts degree.

Dr. King became the first black person to be elected president of the student body of Crozer Theological Seminary in Chester, Pennsylvania, where he graduated first in his class of 1951. While at Crozer he did further study at the University of Pennsylvania. He pursued a doctoral program in systematic theology at Boston University, earning his doctor of philosophy degree in 1955.

Dr. King was thrust into the contemporary nonviolent movement when, on December 1, 1955, a black woman, Mrs. Rosa Parks, refused to give up her seat to a white man on a city bus in Montgomery, Alabama. Dr. King led the 381-day Montgomery bus boycott which began with the arrest of Mrs. Parks. For more than a year, the black community of 50,000 persons refused to ride the buses. The boycott did not end until the buses were desegregated by order of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Following the Montgomery bus boycott, black leaders from across the south came together in a series of meetings in early 1957. Out of those meetings the Southern Christian Leadership Conference was officially founded in February, 1957.

SCLC thus became the organization through which Dr. King worked. Its task was no less than revolutionary: to liberate the black psyche from white racism, to gain for black people control over their own lives and destiny, to regain the right to vote and political power and to put an end to the system of legal segregation in the south.

From 1955 to 1968 there came the sit-ins the freedom rides the founding of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee and literally hundreds of local movements. The march on Washington in 1963 when Dr. King delivered his most famous oration, "I Have a Dream," before 250,000 demonstrators and a national television audience. . . . The Birmingham movement organized by SCLC in 1963 and its direct result, an end to legal segregation through the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The Selma movement which regained the right to vote for black Americans through the Voting Rights Act of 1955 and the awarding of the 1964 Nobel Prize for Peace to Dr. King, the third black man, twelfth American and youngest person ever to win the prize.

Dr. King was assassinated April 4, 1968 while preparing for the Poor People's Campaign in Memphis, Tennessee. As Dr. King said on so many occasions, "It is not how long a man lives, but how well."

"I Remember Martin". . . . .

I remember Martin. . . for his ability to attract the support of such diverse personalities as those of us who made up the Board and Staff . . . and how he inspired us to forge those differences into united forces against the common enemies of hatred and bias. . . yet without destroying the diversities that made us creative and effective most of the time. . . enough of the time to move mountains.

I remember Martin. . . for his thorough understanding of the theological implications of the struggle and his devotion to the moral imperatives of the feat. . .

I remember Martin. . . who, more than any other human being in our time, touched the conscience of a mighty and rich nation so that it was moved to institute the social change that lifted burdens from the weak and gave new dignity to the poor. . .

I remember Martin. . . because his dream was in essence the dream of a nation that had forgotten. . . and more than that it was in truth the dream of a Creator who had not forgotten and who made "of one blood all nations of men to dwell upon the face of His earth."

I remember Martin. . . because he dared underscore the link between justice at home and peace in the world. . . because he knew that an immoral war in Southeast Asia grew out of an immoral social and economic system in these United States. . .

I remember Martin. . . because he articulated so clearly and emphatically that there is no justice in war and that at the same time there can be no peace without justice.

I remember Martin. . . that in death as in life he gave his all for others. . . he should be remembered as a "drum major" for justice, and we do. . .

I remember Martin. . . as a continuing force in challenging the conscience of the nation and the world. . . to bring "justice down like waters and righteousness as a mighty stream. . ."

In this spirit, SCLC, his organization, his heart, his ministry with your help. . . shall continue to fulfill the dream. . . in the streets and in the suites. . . they have killed the dreamer. . . we must make sure they cannot kill the dream.

The dream must be translated into sustained effort to bring about the systematic change needed to commit the nation to full employment; to put an end to repressive criminal justice systems; to bring peace with justice to all the world; to usher in the day of brotherhood and end the long night of wrong.

Yes, I remember Martin. . . as the fullest embodiment of the calling to ministry. . . and I am humbled and frightened and challenged to occupy the chair where he sat as president of his organization, SCLC. . . and yet I know that I have his love and in those lonely hours I sense his presence. . . and more than that. . . I have your confidence and your support. . . and more than that. . . we walk with God whose will is surely liberty for all his children. . . and he has promised that we shall overcome. . .

*Through Peace, Unity, Love,
Brotherhood and Respect*

THE LATE DR. RONALD E. MCNAIR ASTRONAUT

SPECIAL HONORS:

Graduated magna cum laude from North Carolina A&T (1971); named a Presidential scholar (1967-1971), a Ford Foundation Fellow (1971-1974), a National Fellowship Fund Fellow (1974-1975), a NATO Fellow (1975); winner of Omega Psi Phi Scholar of the Year Award (1975), Los Angeles Public School System's Service Commendation (1979), Distinguished Alumni Award (1979), National Society of Black Professional Engineers Distinguished National Scientist Award (1979), Friend of Freedom Award (1981), Who's Who Among Black Americans (1980), an AAU Karate Gold Medal (1976), five Regional Blackbelt Karate Championships, and numerous proclamations and achievement awards.

EXPERIENCE:

While at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Dr. McNair performed some of the earliest development of chemical HF/DF and high-pressure CO lasers. His later experiments and theoretical analysis on the interaction of intense CO<sub>2</sub> laser radiation with molecular gases provided new understandings and applications for highly excited polyatomic molecules.

In 1975, he studied laser physics with many authorities in the field at E'cole D'ete Theorique de Physique, Les Houches, France. He published several papers in the areas of lasers and molecular spectroscopy and gave many presentations in the United States and abroad.

Following graduation from MIT in 1976, he became a staff physicist with Hughes Research Laboratories in Malibu, California. His assignments included the development of lasers for isotope separation and photochemistry utilizing non-linear interactions in low-temperature liquids and optical pumping techniques. He also conducted research on electro-optic laser modulation for satellite-to-satellite space communications, the construction of ultra-fast infrared detectors, ultraviolet atmospheric remote sensing, and the scientific foundations of the martial arts.

Aggie Family:

We are very proud to salute our Queen, Tangular F. Graves, Miss North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University, 1993-94. Her theme, "AGGIES STANDING TOGETHER: ONE COMMON BOND," clearly points to the efforts, achievements, commitments, and contributions of students faculty/staff, administrators, alumnus, alumna, and friends.

Our 1993-94 Aggie Homecoming celebration is upon us. The stage is set. We see the creation of one common bond being demonstrated by many in celebrating our magnificent week-long activities and the refresh of memories shared with pride.

We especially greet "Aggies" who have come from Dare to Cherokee... Welcome Home! Even for you, this adventurous nostalgia blend will be exhilarating. Many of you here today, have walked and studied long, hard hours on these hallowed and sacred grounds. Because of this, an enormous amount of contributions have been molded into the crucible of times. Your presence this year shows a sense of loyalty toward implementation of the theme: AGGIES STANDING TOGETHER: ONE COMMON BOND."

May I encourage each of you to take advantage of the festivities with the ole time Aggie Spirit and Pride in mind. Keep safety first and May God richly Bless you and yours.

Sincerely yours,

Rodney L. Boone

ALMA MATER

Dear A. and T., dear A. and T., a monument indeed,
Around thy base with grateful hearts behold thy students kneel.
We bless the power that gave thee birth to help us in our need,
We'll ever strive while here on earth all loyalty to yield.

REFRAIN

With joy, with joy, dear A. and T., thy students turn from thee
To spread thy trophies year by year from Dare to Cherokee.

II

Dear A. and T., dear A. and T., the signet thou shalt be Set by our great old commonwealth, proud boaster of the free;
She'd have the record of her worth on granite not inscribed —
Nay, let the children of her birth proclaim it by their lives.

III

Dear A. and T., dear A. and T., henceforth our aim shall be,
By precepts wise and deeds more sure to bless the State through thee;
The arts of industry to wield against an idle foe.
A harvest rich from ripened fields of what thy students sow.
